MESA Acquires PCA

MESA, a full-service corrosion control and integrity solutions company with headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma, acquired PCA Engineering, Inc. earlier this year. PCA Engineering, Inc. has sixty years of experience in cathodic protection and integrity inspections primarily servicing the northeast. The partnership between MESA and PCA Engineering, Inc. allows MESA to expand solutions for non-destructive testing and inspections, while adding additional teams to provide corrosion protection and materials solutions nationwide. With new offices in New Jersey and Massachusetts, MESA continues to expand its reach coast-to-coast.
